

Mal Kline

Executive Director of Accuracy in Academia

Lecture on

The Academic Bill of Rights

Malcolm A. Kline is the executive director of Accuracy in Academia (AIA), a non-profit research group reporting on bias in education. In that capacity, Kline serves as editor-in-chief of AIA's two web sites- www.academia.org and www.campusreportonline.net. Kline also edits AIA's monthly newsletter, Campus Report and hosts a monthly online broadcast on www.rightalk.com. He previously worked as the editor of the National Journalism Center (NJC) and has written for a variety of publications including USA Today, The American Enterprise, Human Events and The National Catholic Register.

11:00 AM

March 12, 2006

Room 302

The Cafritz Center

George Washington University

800 21st Street, NW, Washington, DC